"Be careful with the road under your feet, don't run too fast, there is still a steep slope ahead. The mother may ask the child, 'Are you hungry? Do you want to take a break and drink some water?' The child may be curious and ask, 'What mountain is that?' Can we climb to the top? The parents will also discuss the itinerary and weather. Where will we have lunch later? The wind is strong at the top of the mountain, and the child should wear a coat. The parents will also remind the child not to go too far. Don't forget to leave us too far. Signal in mountains is not good. This conversation is so-

FAMILY

The scenery is so beautiful. Climbing to the top of the mountain would be even more beautiful.

COUPLE

We must challenge the most difficult route this time! Friend B jokingly said, 'Are you sure you don't need me to carry you up the mountain?' Along the way, even if one would encourage the other, and also jokingly say, 'Wow, do we have to roll back down such a steep slope?'"
